THE TASK

This Design and Build project provided additional secure living accommodation for the armed forces, and consists of a new accommodation block for females based on a courtyard concept, extensions to E Block to house service personnel undergoing sentence, an extension to the Sergeants Mess providing 21 bed-sitting rooms and an extension to the close confinement block providing additional cells, utility, ablution and recreational accommodation.

THE RESULT

Construction followed the existing built form, which is single storey, pitched roof traditional construction. External facing materials included brickwork, metal windows, artificial slates, and were chosen to match the earlier construction on the site. The construction period was fourteen months.
